Visiting Alliance Representative Slain!

Last night Lloyd Owens, a representative of the Alliance Government, was slain in a shooting at the Iron Club bar. 5 bystanders were injured in the crossfire as the Rep's bodyguards battled with the gunmen. Police are conducting an investigation into the attack and say they are following up on several promising leads. Michael Xinchub, the Alliance Ambassador, is demanding "that the perpetrators of this cowardly attack be found and brought to justice." Lloyd Owens was on Pegasi as a member of an industry trade group meeting with local officials and industry leaders. Lam Kwong, the head of the Pegasi Chamber of Commerce, issued a statement "All of the members of the PCoC were saddened by the death of Mr. Owens and offer our sincere condolences to his family members."

Gang Violence Increases!

The boostergang Grey Dogs has publicly declared war on the neighboring rippergang Steel Razons. A spokesman for Grey Dogs says that the Steel Razons killed 4 of their members in an unprovoked attack on Thursday night. So far, retaliatory attacks have claimed the lives of 12 members of both gangs. Police sources warn against travel to the Northwestern area of the Combat Zone. - File reporter

Caltra Corp offers to buy AMC Pegasi mine.

Today Caltra Corp tendered an unsolicited bid for the Moresby Ridge Tantalum Mine operated by AMC Pegasi. The mine has been severely underperforming for the past year, dragging down AMC Pegasi results. A spokesman for Caltra says that they have developed a new refining process that will dramatically increase output at the formerly lucrative mine. AMC Pegasi refused to comment on the offer.
