

Game Mastering 101 Resources

RPG
Logic

Podcasts

There are tons of great podcasts out there about role playing games. From Actual Play 'casts where you can listen to other people play games that you are interested in to see how it's done to inspiration and advice. The following are the ones that I listen to.

RPG Logic (Actual play and related advice.) rpglogic.libsyn.com

Fear the Boot (Advice on a specific topic discussed by a panel of gamers.) www.feartheboot.com/ftb/

Happy Jacks (Answers to listener submitted questions, highly R-rated.) www.happyjacks.org

GM Briefing (Concise discussion of a specific topic by one of the Happy Jacks hosts, more G-rated.) www.happyjacks.org

Role Playing Public Radio (Weekly actual play sessions along with monthly discussion of specific topics.) slangdesign.com/rppr/

Ken and Robin Talk About Stuff (Crazy fueled inspiration and great advice) www.kenandrobintalkaboutstuff.com

Websites

Websites also abound. Two of the best are:

TheAngryGM.com

RolePlayingTips.com

Books

Focal Point by Phil Vecchione, Walt Ciechanowski, and John Arcadian

Odyssey by Phil Vecchione and Walt Ciechanowski

Never Unprepared by Phil Vecchione

How to Run by Alexis D. Smolensk

Xtreme Gamemastery by Tracy and Curtis Hickman

Kobold's Guide to World Building edited by Janna Silverstein, published by

Kobold Press

Robin's Laws of Good Game Mastering by Robin D. Laws (sadly OOP)